BARRELS, SIGHTS & MOUNTS

Bushmaster Barrels are the finest AR15-Type/M16-Type barrels made – machined from 4150 chrome-moly-vanadium steel or stainless steel. Most Bushmaster barrels are hard chrome-lined to offer corrosion resistance in the bore and chamber. The chrome lining is much harder than barrel steel, and effectively doubles barrel life with proper care (exactly why the military specifies the process). Chrome's lubricity (i.e., 'slipperiness') reduces friction, increases velocity, aids in chambering and extraction, and speeds barrel cleaning. Bushmaster barrels are manganese phosphate finished (except the stainless) to guard against exterior rust or corrosion, and to provide a similar matte black, non-reflective finish found on quality military-type arms.

RIFLING: Bushmaster AR15 barrels have 6 grooves and lands, right hand twist, 1 turn in 9" (except for DCM and Predator barrels – 1 in 8"). The 1 in 9" twist offers optimal results for the widest variety of commercially available 5.56 NATO/223 Rem ammunition.

FORGED FRONT SIGHTS: Our standard front sights are machined from steel forgings to offer superior tensile strength. We do not use castings, which may crack or break if you accidentally drop your rifle.

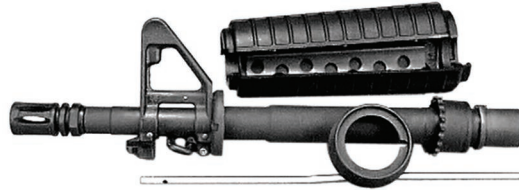

HEADSPACING: Barrel assemblies are headspaced at the factory and are shipped ready for assembly and use. BATF rulings permit permanent factory installation of muzzle brakes/suppressors on barrels if the overall length (barrel and brake, etc.) equals at least 16".

PURCHASE TWO WAYS: Bushmaster barrels can be purchased as 'Complete Assemblies,' which include all parts forward of the upper receiver: handguards, gas tub, delta ring kit, etc.

Bushmaster barrels can also be purchased as 'Barrel Only,' which includes the barrel, barrel nut, handguard cap and complete front-sight assembly (with sight post and sling swivel) as a savings to those shooters who already have handguards.

NOTE: 'Barrel Only' assemblies of 16" or longer length will not include flash suppressors; order those separately from our Muzzle Brakes/Suppressors/Compensators section.

PRE-BAN/POST-BAN – A CAUTION FOR OUR CUSTOMERS: When the Assault Weapons Ban of 1994 expired on Sept. 13th, 2004, it became legal to again offer features on the AR15-Type rifle such as flash suppressors and bayonet lugs that had been deemed illegal for those previous 10 years. Although that federal legislation has expired, certain states have retained their own versions of assault weapons ban statutes. Buyers should check their own state and county laws to determine what the local legalities are regarding the use of rifles or parts such as barrels with these features and accessories.

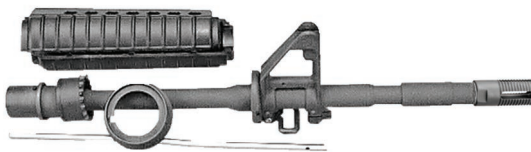

'SHORT BARRELED' ASSEMBLIES

- These chrome-lined barrel assemblies (either 11.5" or 14.5") with A2 birdcage suppressors may only be used on registered short-barreled rifles or full-auto models for legality — can be installed on pistols as well
